Pacific Power Source, Inc.'s Statement on the RoHS Directive

Irvine, California, July 2006:

Pacific Power Source, Inc. (PPS) is dedicated to protecting the health and safety of our customers, employees, and the environment. Through rigorous internal standards, Pacific Power Source strives to comply with all domestic and international governmental regulations. Particular concern is applied to the operational, environmental, health and safety aspects of our products. As lead free component availability and process reliability improve, Pacific Power Source will continue to move toward compliance and elimination of hazardous substances from its products.

The following statement applies to Pacific's compliance with the EU Directive 2002/95/EC (RoHS).

DIRECTIVE 2002/95/EC (Restriction of Use of Certain Hazardous Substances in Electrical and Electronic Equipment (RoHS)):

Pacific Power Source equipment is classified under WEEE Directive, Annex 1A, Category 9: "Monitoring and Control Instruments", and is currently considered 'exempt' in accordance with Article 2, paragraph 1 of the RoHS directive.
